BEFORE THE RAIN.

We knew it would rain for all the morn A spirit on slender ropes of mist Was lowering its golden buckets down Into the vapory amethyst

Of marshes and swamps and dismal fens Scooping the dew that lay in the flow ers, Dipping the jewels out of the sea

To sprinkle them over the land in showers. We knew it would rain, for the poplars showed

AFTER THE RAIN. The rain has ceased, and in my room

The sunshine pours an airy flood, And on the church's dizzy wane The ancient cross is bathed in blood. From out the dripping tvy leaves,

Antiquely carven, gray and high, A dormer, facing westward, looks

Upon the village like an eye. And now it glimmers in the sun, A square of gold, a disc, a spec,
And in the belfry sits a dove,
With purple ripples on her neck.

DAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder-blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for a rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes also. in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and de-bility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged. AGUE AND FEVER. DR. C. MOLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. THE RESULT.

Returns from the election yesterday are scattering and incomplete, but there can be no good purpose subserved by sincerely hoped might he averted-the election of Samuel J. Tilden This result (and it is unsafe to predict that later returns will change it materially) has not been unlooked for by many of the clearest thinkers of the republican party, more especially since the Octo ber elections. We are profoundly impressed with the belief that the triumph of the democratic party bodes no good to the country, and in common with the republican party generally we entertain the greatest fears of the conse quences. But as loyal citizens we must bow in submission to the expressed will of the people, and accept the result in good faith, trusting that the calmer and better judgment of the majority may reverse the decision sooner or later.

Amid the general avalanche of bad news, however, the republicans of Macon county can congratulate thems selves upon the handsome victory they have achieved. McClellan and Forstmyer have good majorities, while Brown is only beaten by a few votes. It is altogether probable that we have also elected our two representatives, Abel and Chambers, and Mr. Cannon's election is an assured fact.

Never was better work done by the Republicans of Decatur and Macon 400 -probably more. county, and we say, all honor to them

DAMNABLE OUTRAGE.

Infamous Attempt to Steal the Body of Lincoln.

BUT ALE TRUSTRATED IN THEIR Betalls of the Flendish Atrocity. From the Springfield Journal, Nov. 8th. A dastardly outrage came near being perpetrated last evening, and but for at 10,000. Several parishes heard the promptness of Mr. J. C. Power, custodian of the Lincoln Monument at Oak Ridge, the remains of the Martyr | ton township, Hayes 462; Tilden 148, President would not be in the sarcoph. agus this morning. It seems that Mr. Power became convinced some time ago that thieves had designs either on Memorial Hall or the catacomb, and he communicated his suspicions to Leonord Swett and Robert Lincoln of Chicago. They could hardly believe it possible that there was a human being no degraded as to think of disturbing the remains. However, they felt, from the sincerity of Mr. Power that some thing would happen, that his admonition should be heeded Detective Tyrrell, of the United States Secret Service, whose headquarters are in Chicago, happening to have business in Springfield, Mr. Power sought him out | give Tilden 21,000 majority, indicating | and requested his assistance. This aftermoon Mr. Power came into the city in a hurry, found Mr. Tyrrell and told him two fellows had been at the Cemetery looking around. Tyrrell jumped to the conclusion that election night was just the time for such an undertaking, if it was to be made, since everybody would be interested and absorbed in the returns. Last evening's train from Chicago brought Elmer Washburne and another detective, the ex-Chief of the Secret Service having come down at the request of Mr. Swett and Mr. Robert Lincoln, to aid Tyrrell. Shortly after 6 o'clock the offieers with two trusty men left the city rnd went out to the Cometery. Its Intrinsic Merit and Decided Superiority Over All Others

Boston, Feb. 18, 1871.

Mr. H. R. Stevens:

Dear Sir—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefitted by its use. I procured the article, and after using several bottles, was restored to health and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would obserfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health. Respectfully yours,

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—The two bottles of VEGETINE furnished me by your agent, my wife has used with great benefit.

For a long time she has been troubled with dizziness and contiveness; these troubles are now entirely removed by the use of VEGETINE.

She was also troubled with Dyspepsia and General Debility and has been greatly benefited.
